Item 4 – Advisory Business

FDA is an SEC Registered Investment Advisor with its principal place of business located in Greensboro, North Carolina.

In this brochure the words, “Client”, “Client’s”, “Clients”, “Clients’ “may be used to refer to Clients that are: Individuals, High Net Worth Individuals, Profit Sharing Plans, Government Pension Plans, For-Profit Pension Plans, Non-Profit Pension Plans, 401(k) Plans, 403 (b) Plans, 457 Plans.

However, information applicable to only the aforementioned plans, as described in the Brochure, does not apply to Clients who are Individuals or High Net Worth Individuals.

For Clients that are retirement plans, FDA provides advisory and consulting services for Client retirement plans on mutual funds investment selection and provides on going mutual fund manager monitoring for each Client’s plan. Each Client’s plan investments are made in mutual funds and the individual funds are managed by mutual funds personnel. The mutual funds selected for each Client’s plan are determined by consultations between the Client’s plan sponsor and FDA. FDA also provides advisory and consulting services for Clients who are individuals or high net worth individuals. These types of Clients’ investments are made in mutual funds, ETF’s and, upon request, individual stocks and bonds. FDA uses FI360 Software to help screen, select and monitor these investments utilizing the FI360 scoring methodology. Investments are monitored on a quarterly basis as updates are made available on the FI360 Software. Four different models have been created utilizing Mutual Funds and ETFs with an emphasis on diversification and varying market and interest rate risk to match the client’s time horizon and risk tolerance.

FDA, as a part of asset management services, may also perform project work such as financial planning, mutual fund searches, fiduciary studies, allocation studies, and expense studies for its Clients.

Listed below are the firm’s principal shareholders (i.e., those individuals and /or entities controlling 25% or more of FDA).

Charles Christopher Stanley, CEO / Chief Compliance Officer

William Elbert Stanley III, President

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Please see Appendix C of your Advisory Agreement for your specific fee schedule.*

Fees for services may be calculated as follows:

RETIREMENT PLAN ASSETS:

Account Value $	Asset Based Fee Schedule
Up to $1 million	0.40% - 0.30%
$1 - $5 million	0.30% - 0.20%
$5 - $10 million	0.20% - 0.15%
$10 - $25 million	0.15% - 0.10%
$25+ million	0.10% - less

INDIVIDUAL WEALTH MANAGEMENT ASSETS:

Account Value $	Asset Based Fee Schedule
Up to $500,000	1.50% max
$500,000 - $1 million	1.20%
$1 - $5 million	1.00%
$5 - $10 million	0.85%
$10+ million	0.70%

All fees are subject to negotiation.

Fees are payable quarterly in arrears (Plan assets) and in advance (Individual assets) based upon the value of the investment assets determined at month end for the prior period or by the fixed fee arrangement option. The first payment is assessed and due at the end of the first calendar quarter and will be assessed pro rata in the event the Investment Advisory Agreement is executed at any time other than the first day of the current calendar quarter. Subsequent payments are due and will be assessed on the first day of each new quarter. Our firm directly debits management fees from the Client's account or the Client may choose to pay the fees directly to FDA. In some circumstances, including by client request, the Retirement Plan fees may be charged as a flat/fixed fee.

Significant deposits and withdrawals during a calendar quarter may cause fees to be prorated, at FDA's discretion. Client fees will be refunded via a credit to the account for any errors or miscalculations.

The method of charging the Client is specified in the Client's Investment Advisory Agreement-Appendix C, which is executed by the Client and FDA. FDA neither receives nor will take any other forms of compensation for services rendered to Clients for these services. FDA will cause the Client's custodian to direct any and all 12b-1 fees, which may be a part of a Mutual Fund's Expense Ratio, back to the Client's account. Clients may then use these fees as they deem appropriate, i.e. to offset Plan expenses such as TPA (Third Party Administration) fees, trustee/custodian fees, or to be left in a Client's Plan Trust to be allocated to the Client's Plan

Participants.

A Client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 (thirty) days written notice. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar quarter will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of any account, any earned, unpaid fees will be due and payable.

FDA's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the Client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions.

Advisory Agreements may be amended at any time by letter or other written instrument in a manner mutually agreed upon by the Client and FDA.

All fees paid to FDA for investment management services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds to their shareholders. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee, other fund expenses, and a possible distribution fee. If the fund also imposes sales charges, a Client may pay an initial or deferred sales charge. A Client could invest in a mutual fund directly, without our services. In that case, the Client would not receive the services provided by our firm which are designed, among other things, to assist the Client in determining which mutual fund or funds are most appropriate to each Client's financial condition and objectives. Accordingly, the Client should review both the fees charged by the mutual funds and FDA's fees to fully understand the total amount of fees to be paid by the Client and to thereby evaluate the advisory services being provided.

FDA is deemed to be a fiduciary to advisory Clients that are employee benefit plans pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income and Securities Act ("ERISA"), and regulations under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), respectively. As such, our firm is subject to specific duties and obligations under ERISA and the Internal Revenue Code including among other things, restrictions concerning certain forms of compensation.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

FDA does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains or capital appreciation of the assets of a Client).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

FDA provides advisory services to the following types of Clients:

Individuals

Profit Sharing Plans

Government Pension Plans

For-Profit Pension Plans

Non-Profit Pension Plans

401(k) Plans

403(b) Plans

457 Plans

FDA does not have minimum account balance requirements for initiating or maintaining an investment advisory relationship.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss Clients should be prepared to bear. FDA uses mutual fund prospectuses, financial newspapers, magazines, and research materials prepared by others. FDA uses eMoney Financial, Wealthbox, Panoramix, Morningstar's Principia Pro Software, as well as FI360 software from the Center for Fiduciary Excellence (CEFEX).

Investment characteristics such as past performance, manager tenure, Alpha, Sharpe Ratio, standard deviation, style drift, and composition are among the many features used to determine investment appropriateness for the Client. With any investment there is potential for market, interest rate, inflation, artificial intelligence, machine learning and geopolitical risk. The investments suggested by FDA change as information regarding those investment's changes, and as the needs of each Client changes.

These sources of information provide a framework for determining the potential return and risks of the investments which are matched against the best interest of each Client. The investments suggested by FDA change as information regarding those investment's changes, and as the need of each Client.

Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Risk. Certain service providers utilized by the Firm to service client accounts have artificial intelligence components. The use of artificial intelligence and machine learning includes increased risk of data inaccuracies and security vulnerabilities. Due to the rapid advancement of machine learning technologies, future risks related to artificial intelligence are unpredictable. As a measure to mitigate these risks to our clients, the Firm performs periodic due diligence of our service providers for assurance that the service providers have appropriate controls in place to protect our clients' information and to limit data inaccuracies when artificial intelligence is used by the service provider.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events material to your evaluation of FDA or the integrity of FDA's management. FDA has no information applicable to this Item.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Clients should be aware the receipt of additional compensation by FDA and its management persons or employees may create a conflict of interest that could impair the objectivity of our firm and these individuals when making advisory recommendations. FDA endeavors at all times to put the interest of its Clients first as part of our fiduciary duty as a registered investment adviser; we take the following steps to address this conflict:

- We disclose to Clients in this brochure the existence of all material conflicts of interest, including the potential for our firm and our employees to earn compensation from advisory Clients in addition to our firm's advisory fees. Charles Stanley, William E. Stanley, and Kenneth Garber are registered representatives of Intercarolina Financial Services, Inc. FINRA registered broker-dealer. This arrangement does not create a material conflict of interest with FDA's clients;
- We collect, maintain and document accurate, complete and relevant Client background information, including the Client's financial goals, objectives and risk tolerance;
- Our firm's management conducts regular reviews of each Client's account to verify all recommendations made to a Client are suitable to the Client's needs and circumstances;
- Our internal Compliance Officer reviews all Client accounts and FDA operations to ensure its activities are in compliance with all SEC Regulations;
- We require our employees seek prior approval of any outside business activity so we may ensure any conflicts of interest in such activities are properly addressed;
- We periodically monitor these outside business activities to verify any conflicts of interest continue to be properly addressed by our firm.
- We educate our employees regarding the responsibilities of a fiduciary, including the need to have a reasonable and independent basis for the investment advice provided to Clients.
- The IARs may also be licensed insurance agents. From time to time, they may offer clients advice or products from those activities. Clients should be aware that these services pay a commission and involve a possible conflict of interest, as commissionable products can conflict with the fiduciary duties of a registered investment adviser. Fund Direct Advisors, Inc., always acts in the best interest of the client; including the sale of commissionable products to advisory clients. Clients are in no way required to implement the plan through any representative of Fund Direct Advisors, Inc. in their capacity as an insurance agent
- Some IARs also provide independent tax planning services through Integrated Tax Solutions. Clients should be aware that these services involve a possible conflict of interest. This conflict is mitigated as clients are in no way required to obtain tax services through Integrated Tax Solutions.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

FDA has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of FDA describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its Clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of Client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, personal securities trading procedures among other items. All supervised persons at FDA must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

FDA anticipates, in appropriate circumstances, consistent with Clients' investment objectives, it will cause accounts over which FDA has management authority to effect and will recommend to investment advisory Clients or prospective Clients, the purchase or sale of securities in which FDA, its affiliates and/or Clients, directly or indirectly, have a position of interest. FDA's employees and persons associated with FDA are required to follow FDA's Code of Ethics. Subject to satisfying this policy and applicable laws, officers, directors and employees of FDA and its affiliates may trade for their own accounts in securities which are recommended to and/or purchased for FDA's Clients. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of FDA will not interfere with (1) making decisions in the best interest of advisory Clients and (2) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. FDA or any affiliated individuals may have an interest or position in a mutual fund which may also be recommended to a Client. Due to the nature of open-end mutual funds, it is extremely unlikely that a Client's investment could be affected by this ownership.

A copy of our Code of Ethics is available to our advisory Clients and prospective Clients. You may request a copy by sending an email to: wstanley@funddirectadvisors.com, or by calling us at 888-339-5080.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

FDA does not exercise any discretion in selecting a broker/dealer. They are selected after consultation with the prospective Client. The factors to be considered by FDA in selecting brokers-dealers and determining the reasonableness of their commission are:

- (1) Experience of firm and individual brokers
- (2) Efficiency of trade execution
- (3) Recordkeeping
- (4) Availability of institutional brokerage discount arrangements
- (5) Availability of research services
- (6) Reasonableness of commissions

FDA Management does not have any soft-dollar "indirect compensation" arrangements and does not receive any soft-dollar benefits from the broker-dealers used. If a Client chooses the broker-dealer, FDA may not be unable to achieve the most favorable execution of a Client's transactions and may cost the Client more money.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

FDA Representatives: William Elbert Stanley III, Charles Christopher Stanley, and Kenneth Richard Garber periodically review Client accounts. The standard review encompasses the positions in the account, realized gains and losses, unrealized gains and losses, account performance, the accounts current investment objectives, any change in those objectives and any other matter which may need to be discussed regarding the particular account. Each account under management is generally reviewed four times each year utilizing F1360 Software's monitor reporting capabilities.

More frequent reviews may be triggered by material changes in variables such as individual circumstances, the market, political or economic environment. After a face-to-face meeting, FDA makes recommendations based on risk tolerance, financial goals and investment horizon. We consider each Client's feedback and preferences and then revisit these objectives at each subsequent review in order to make any necessary changes or adjustments.

Our regularly scheduled reviews help to ensure each account is maintaining a proper asset allocation, and to ensure progress toward investment goals and objectives. We periodically meet with Clients to discuss results, identify opportunities and make necessary adjustments aligning with the Client's needs. During these reviews, Clients will receive clear and transparent statements of holdings and transactions to measure the progress of the account versus investment goals. FDA will adjust a plan portfolio when the plan sponsor would like to make changes to the risk exposure of the investment mix.

The Client's trustee/custodian will provide Clients with monthly account statements.

Item 14 –Client Referrals

FDA does not participate in offering compensation for Client referrals.

Item 15 –Custody

We previously disclosed in the "Fees and Compensation" Section Item 5 of this Brochure our firm can directly debit advisory fees from Client accounts. As part of this billing process, the Client's custodian is advised of the amount of the fee to be deducted from the Client's account. On at least a quarterly basis, the custodian is required to send to the Client a statement showing all transactions within the account during the reporting period. Clients should contact us directly if they believe that there may be an error in their statement.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

FDA does have discretionary authority for some Client accounts. This authority must be specifically authorized by a Client and is noted in the Client's Investment Advisory Agreement document.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

As a matter of firm policy and practice, FDA does not have any authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of Clients.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required by Item 18 to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about FDA's financial condition. FDA is not required to provide financial information to our clients because we do not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $1,200 six or more months in advance FDA has no financial commitment impairing its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to Clients and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.
